Abattoir protest

Methodists will protest against plans to build a saleyards and abattoir complex at Derrimut.

The church will tell the Premier, Mr. Hamer, and Opposition Leader, Mr. Holding, saleyards must not be built near homes.

Methodists from northern and western suburbs decided on this action at Williamstown last week at their annual synod.

The synod was concerned that the saleyards would have a bad effect on the community, particularly people living in the Glengala Housing Commission estate in the south-west of Sunshine.

The Methodists were particularly concerned that "a Government department could site and build a housing estate there while plans for a saleyards were being proposed."

A spokesman for the synod said, "In making this protest we are not aligning ourselves with any sectional interests or political parties.

"We are concerned for the people, for the way they live and the environment they have to live in.

"They would never put this in one of the eastern areas like Too-rak or Blackburn. There is a certain amount of political expediency in this," the spokesman said.

Altona Council has registered a strong protest with the State Government over the Derrimut proposal.

School cleaning angers student

Some students, and a migrant worker in the west, are upset at the long established use of students as cleaners in Victorian schools.

The Education Department does not provide cleaners to keep Victorian school grounds tidy.

School principals have to use either roster forms or a roster of individual students to regularly clean the grounds.

A former student at Altona North High School has complained that using students as cleaners is "exploitation".

The ex-student said students at the school were forced to miss whole days to clean up the school grounds.

The former executive director of the Western Region Community Relations Committee, Joe Caputo, told the STAR he was most indignant about the practice.

He said the Education Department was "killing two birds with the one stone".

"Firstly they save money by not employing cleaners, and secondly it saves them the need to employ the specialised teachers they desperately need."

However, the deputy principal at Altona North High, Mr. Joel Blackburn, said students were used to keep school grounds clean throughout the State, even in private schools such as Scotch College.

Mr. Blackburn said until this year the school used duty forms to clean the grounds at lunch-time.

"But this way you get two or three willing workers and the rest don't help," he said.

ONE DAY

This year, the school introduced a system being adopted by many schools throughout the State.

Each student was expected to spend one day in the school year as official cleaner.

"Each student misses five hours work a year, but we consider this a lesson in civic mindedness.

"Most students look forward to it. They can wear casual clothes and be their own boss for the day. They usually finish early," Mr. Blackburn said.

"It brings home to them an awareness of tidiness. Since we've been doing it this way the grounds have been tidier than ever before," he said.

Mr. Blackburn agreed the Education Department was getting out of cleaning "on the cheap".

"If they'd pay for contract cleaners we'd be delighted. But as they don't we have to do what we can," he said.

Victoria's Governor, Sir Henry Winneke, presented prizes to three Altona girls, winners of essay and poster competitions run in conjunction with the 100th meeting of Altona's junior council last week.

Minister to open ambulance branch

The Minister for Health, Mr. Vasey Houghton, will officially open Altona's new civil ambulance station on Saturday morning, August 14.

The station, at 397 Blackshaws Road, near Millers Road, has cost $130,000 to build.

Of this total, Altona Council has contributed more than $30,000, including the profits made from the mayoral ball last year and this year.

Guests at the official opening, which will begin at 11 a.m., will include Sir Laurence Hartnett, president of the Victorian Civil Ambulance Service; Dr. E. Wilder, chairman of the Hospitals and Charities Commission and Mr. R.

Gillham, general manager of Altona Petrochemical.

As well, the mayor of Altona, Cr. Bill Sommers, other councillors and their wives, will be official guests, and representatives of local service organisations will also take part.

The morning will be open to the general public.

However, the first day of the station's operation was on Monday, when Station Officer Steve Vasil took charge.

His staff, until August 30, will be seven men, but by September 1, the duty roster will expand to 11.

YEARLY COST

The station expects to have a yearly running cost of $180,000. Altona Petrochemical Company joined the council in its effort to help establish the station by donating $3000 at the annual mayoral ball held earlier this year.

Most officers to be employed live locally, and about six were recruited by the service with the new station in mind.

The ambulance service has built the station to expand if necessary, with the least possible expense.

The workload expected is about 500 cases each month, mostly from the Altona area, but also as a back-up service for adjoining districts.

Mr. Alan Hendy, personnel executive with the service believes the new station will enable "better overall service to district residents, including our 3700 subscribers."

"It is also expected that the station will be able to respond quickly to accidents and other emergency calls in the area."

Birth control is their pet aim

Birth control for the dog and cat population of Altona is the principal aim of the newly-formed Altona Animal Welfare League.

The League's secretary, Mrs. Bunty Jackson, of Hearn Street, Altona North, says the campaign will include re-education programmes at local schools.

best look after them, she said.

"Then what happens usually, because people don't know about neutering, is an enormous increase in the animal population each time the female comes into season.

"A great many kittens and pups are dumped or destroyed because people have not taken the preventative action — a short visit to the vet to have their pet neutered.

"The cost is not great, and we have decided, with the co-operation of an Altona vet, to subsidise any genuinely needy pet owner who can't afford the usual fee for the operation."

Mrs. Jackson said Altona people wanting to help the league "keep the city free of stray cats and dogs" could pay a $1 membership fee to join the group.

She can be contacted on 391 6794.

I do visit the other clergy in the district and their desks, like mine, are loaded with many different papers.

Some ministers are methodical, and file their papers regularly, so their desks, unlike mine, are tidy.

A filing cabinet fills one corner of their offices, and you may be sure it is crammed with letters about the multitudinous facets of the church's work.

One folio is the periodical telling of the desperate need of us all to be aware, kindly, of the third world — Africa, Asia and the Middle East.

All too common pictures full of pathos illustrate loneliness and hunger, the struggle to survive — contrasted with our affluence.

We have sealed roads passing our doors, and we don't easily tolerate unpaved footpaths; but they have unmade dusty tracks.

We have our fenced houses, usually neat and trim. The have huts often murky and dark, without benefit of privacy.

In May, September and December each year the media advertises that we in our affluence should spare a thought, a prayer and a dollar for charitable development in the Third World.

Justice, fairness asks this of us, as a minimum. Give a man a fish and you feed him for a day. Teach a man to fish, and you feed him for a lifetime.

Austcare, Freedom From Hunger, Catholic Relief, Christmas Bowl, Community Aid ABROAD — these are just a few of the well-known names that serve the Third World.

Their administration costs are very low. Nearly every cent of your donation gets where the action is.

It helps a man to "fish".

We can support such works with confidence. Perhaps they could even be tax-deductible.

50 years 'a long time', says Bert

Bert and Ivy Mildenhall have been married now for 50 years — "and that's a long time," Bert told The Star-Advertiser this week.

The couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their son and daughter-in-law's home in Blythe Street, Altona, last Friday night.

Bert, now 74, and Ivy, 69, live in Bayview Street, and have been Altona residents for the past 36 years.

"We're part of the town's furniture now," Bert said.

The celebration at Joe and Edie Mildenhall's home, brought friends and relatives from all parts of Melbourne.

"Unfortunately, none of the original wedding party could come along . . .

after all, it was 50 years ago when we married . . . and that's a long time."

Before he retired, Bert was a purchasing officer for a district company. He also spent 20 years as superintendent of the local Manchester Unity Branch.

His wife is still secretary of the group, after 33 years at the job.

Bert was formerly "tied up" with the Altona junior football clubs.

The couple married in Deniliquin, NSW and spent some years there before moving to Altona.

TPI notes

MLC LASHES AT BOARD

Mr. Alex Knight, Labor MLC for Melbourne West, has launched an all-out attack on the Board of Works and its chairman, Mr. Alan Croxford.

He has accused Mr. Croxford of lying to the Water Supply Minister, Mr. Granter, and to himself.

Speaking in Parliament, Mr. Knight said he had received a letter from "a responsible Minister of the Crown" containing inaccurate information.

"I refer to your letter the Minister of Water Supply. I shall read the letter to the House so I can point out the inaccuracies supplied to the Minister by the chairman of the Board of Works," Mr. Knight said.

"Yesterday afternoon I checked this matter with the town clerk, the city engineer and the chief health inspector of Altona."

"The Minister's letter states:

"I refer to your letter concerning the cleaning of tidal drains in Altona, and advise you I have been informed by the Board of Works chairman that the material being removed is the same as that removed on previous occasions, samples of which were analysed in 1973."

"The analysis showed the material to be 83 per cent. mineral solids (clay and silts) and 17 per cent. volatile solids (organic matter)."

"The result of this analysis was forwarded to the Altona City Council."

"Yesterday the chief health inspector and the town clerk of Altona searched the files."

"Knowing the efficiency of the council, I refute the statement in the Minister's letter and put the lie back to Mr. Croxford," Mr. Knight said.

'Glib attitude'

"The information referred was not supplied to Altona Council. No record was ever given. If anyone denies this I am prepared to take him to the council office tomorrow, and he can inspect the files."

"The letter indicates a typical, glib Liberal Party attitude. It continues:

"The odors from this material emanate from the drying of seaweed, and are the same as those odors experienced due to seaweed along the foreshore."

"It is pointed out that, at the dumping area, the board spreads calcium hypochlorite over the material which achieves a marked reduction in the odor at this location."

"Mr. Croxford should get out of the ivory tower — which he could not construct properly — in Little Collins Street. Is he an inefficient chairman?"

"The complaint related to the carting of this material and its odor while being carted, not when it was drying out half a mile down the road when hypochlorite had been spread."

"The material was carted along Millers Road, Civic Parade and Altona Road, where its odor created a nuisance."

"People in the area thought that offal was being carted away from some abattoirs where the condensers had not been working."

"Mr. Croxford should pay a visit to the area and not rely on hearsay."

"Spillage on the road in the area in question originated from works being carried out by the Altona Council in the adjoining reserve."

"This spillage was aggravated by water leaking through the tailgates of the board's trucks. The board immediately engaged road sweepers and water carts to clear the road of the hazard for which it was only in part responsible."

'Another lie'

"This is another lie. The problem was created by the board."

"Admittedly the council was carrying out work on Cherry Lake with the assistance of funds supplied by the former Australian Government."

"The work is a tribute to Altona, and the area is now worth visiting."

"The spillage was not caused by Altona Council. It was caused by the board, which was carting siltage from the tidal drains along Millers Road."

"The siltage was black and wet and the spillage caused a road traffic hazard."

"People of the district complained bitterly to me. There is a speed limit of 75 kmh on this road, and the slime on it created a danger."

"That spillage could not be attributed to the council and the council denies the responsibility for it."

"The problem of fine, black, sandy dirt would not arise from the drying out of the material dumped by the board, as this material dries to the appearance of sawdust."

"This is another inaccuracy. The complain was that the black dust of the road was entering homes on the south-east side of Millers Road. It was not from Cherry Lake."

"The dust nuisance is the result of fine silt on the bed of the lake drying out and blowing, as has happened in the past prior to the construction of the weir which controls the level of the lake."

"It is pointed out that the level of the lake was lowered this summer at the express request of the Altona Council."

"That is another outright lie."

"The level of the lake was lowered by the board. Admittedly the town clerk had spoken to Mr. Earl of the board about the problem of weed growth, which could possibly reach the proportions of the problem at Albert Park Lake."

"But the board acted on its own initiative."

"At the time, the waters were intended to flush the tidal drains, which I had been complaining about for some time. But the dust is from the material which was collected from the tidal drains, not from the lake."

"It is of interest to note that the development and subdivision of this area was undertaken in spite of opposition by the board as the drainage authority."

"That statement is ambiguous. I should like to know which subdivision it meant. Is it the Bayside subdivision or is it the Wimpy subdivision, or another farther to the north which the council thought ought to be acquired to further to beautification programme."

"Mr. Croxford did not state what the 17 per cent. volatile solids were which the board was dumping on to the levee bank of Kororoit Creek, either."

"In times of flood, this material is washed into the creek and into Hobsons Bay," Mr. Knight said.

"The Minister supplied an answer to a question I asked some time back and repeated in this current session of Parliament, in regard to the people who were discharging heavy metals into Kororoit Creek."

"The people were named. Because of certain circumstances, the names should be incorporated in Hansard, and this will be done during the current session of Parliament."

"The dangerous metals and phenols that are being washed into the creek will add to the bay's problems."

"Mr. Croxford is a responsible man and is the delegated agency of the Environment Protection Authority."

"Having got all this off my chest, I feel better," Mr. Knight added.

● The men from the Gas and Fuel Corporation were still on the job at Altona last Friday, getting the new ambulance station in Blackshaws Road ready for the station's first day operation on Monday. The official opening of the $130,000 building will be held on Saturday by the Minister of Health, Mr. Houghton.

.05 fine reduced — good record

Williamstown magistrate, Mr. D. Scully, reduced a fine he had imposed seconds earlier after learning of a man's previous good driving record in a hearing at Williamstown Court on Thursday.

Before the court was Pandelis Tsalcopoulos, of Sutton Avenue, Altona North.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his blood alcohol content exceeded .05.

Constable Paul Girardi told the court he had been on divisional van duty in Newport on Sunday night, May 9.

He said he had driven along Johnston Street, where he saw a car travelling about 10 kmh in the centre of the road.

"The car's brakes were applied on numerous occasions," Const. Girardi said.

"I apprehended the driver, who gave his name and address, and told me he was looking for his brother's place. 'It's somewhere around here,' he said."

"I noticed that his breath smelt of intoxicating liquor and that his eyes were glazed, and asked him to undertake a breath test at the police station. 'His reading was .195.'"

Tsalcopoulos, who was not represented by a barrister, told the court he had been drinking beer with his brother-in-law that night.

"It was my fault, but I was on beer, nothing else," he said.

Mr. Scully asked whether Tsalcopoulos knew the minimum period he was legally required to be off the road was 12 months.

"Yes, I know, I read in the papers," he said.

Mr. Scully fined Tsalcopoulos $80, in default of payment, eight days in jail, then asked how long he had been driving in Australia.

"I've been driving the car 10 years, and since 1957 a motorcycle," Tsalcopoulos said. He had no prior convictions.

Mr. Scully: "That's a good driving record, and in view of that I will reduce the fine."

Tsalcopoulos was ordered to pay $60, in default six days, and had his driver's licence cancelled for 12 months.

Historic society meets

The Williamstown Historical Society will hold its annual general meeting on Thursday, August 26, at 8 p.m.

It will be in the hall on July 18, and it was quite a rush to get it ready.

The society held its 20th birthday party in the hall.

Water and power were not restored to the building until July 14, and there was then still quite a mess.

However with plenty of flowers and food the room looked quite presentable.

The society had its beginnings in a splendid Historical and Arts exhibition in the Williamstown Town Hall.

It was opened by the then Mayor, Cr. E. S. Lofts.

Mr. Lofts, who is no longer a councillor spoke at the birthday party.

Brownies will branch out

The Altona North brownies will hold a tree planting ceremony at Cherry Lake park on Sunday, August 15 at 10 a.m.

The project, called "Rib-bon of Gold" is a state-wide scheme, with members of the brownie movement throughout Victoria planting yellow-leaved trees and yellow flowers on that Sunday.

The Altona North district will also hold a fancy dress ball at the Marion Street youth hall in Altona on Tuesday night, August 24, at 7.30.

Guides, brownies and the families and friends will join in the evening to help raise badly needed funds for the district organisation.

Admission to the ball will be $1 a family, and supper will be provided, with sweets and soft drinks for the children.

ZPG debate on: men v. women

The men met the women in a debate on zero population growth at Altona North's Central Hotel last Monday night.

The debate was between the women of the Altona Beta Sigma Phi and the Altona Apex Club.

The title of the debate was: That Zero Population Growth Should Be Made Compulsory in Australia.

The women took the affirmative side, and the Apexians the negative.

For the first time the Apexians won the day, with a team consisting of Andy Jachno, Philip Jago and Ian Johnson.

The Beta Sigma Phi team was Jan Macleod, Eunice Shearer and Jill Stephens.

Jill, a mother of two, spoke of the world population explosion and the rights of all people Eunice, also a mother of two, argued on the effects of over-population; Jan, another with two children, rebutted the negative arguments put by the men, and quoted from world authorities on population statistics.

Ian Johnson, father of two children and first speaker for the men, spoke of Australia's size, policies and comparison with other countries. He was followed by Andy Jachno, father of four, who debated on compulsion and used a Government population report.

Bachelor Phil Jago effectively rebutted the affirmative team's points, and the judges gave the Apex men the debate.

The debate between the two teams is an annual event — usually won by the women.

Ames aims for council

Ralph Ames, a life-long resident of Victoria Ward, and third generation Ames to live in Williamstown, has nominated for Council.

Ralph's mother founded the girl guide movement in Newport and his father founded the Newport Public Library, that being the first library in the city.

After his marriage to Barbara Sahhar, a nursing sister and resident of Newport (who worked at the Williamstown Hospital) Ralph became the father of two children, which led him to the Presidency of the Oxford Street Kindergarten, Newport, and later to the Newport Primary School Council.

He was asked to represent the Foster Parents' Association in elections for the Western Region Council for Social Development, and is an executive member of that body.

Ralph has also involved himself in the Newport Branch of the ALP of which he is the vice-president, his father was the foundation treasurer. He is the endorsed ALP candidate.

The seat is held by Cr. Adelia Bernard.

Ralph believes the people of Victoria Ward, Newport and Spotswood deserve a representative in Williamstown Council who lives in the ward and therefore lives with the decisions made in council that affect the ward.

He is an administrative officer of Sunshine Council.

He is supported in all his endeavors by his wife, Barbara, son Owen 10 years and daughter Robyn eight years who live at 6 Oxford Street, Newport.

SEAGULLS PASS 200 MARK

An enthusiastic crowd of supporters cheered the Seagulls on to score over 200 points in their game against Box Hill on Sunday.

The Gulls looked set for a big win after kicking 14 goals in the second term.

Box Hill rallied in the third term but the Gulls still led by 64 points at the final change.

In the last quarter, the main interest of the game was centred on whether the Gulls would pass the 200 point mark.

Jon stars in TT win

Sixteen-year-old John Byrne gave a brilliant performance to seal victory for Williamstown Seagulls in round 14 of the Western Suburbs Table Tennis Association winter pennant at the weekend.

John also recorded his 100th singles win in the match. He is a student at St. Paul's College, Altona North, and has been playing competition for only three seasons.

Lacrosse star

Lacrosse star Elaine Matthews, 21, of Spotswood, is just part of the success of the Newport Lacrosse Club this year.

Seven girls from the Newport club, including Elaine Tisdale and star backman, Geoff Bebed, both out with injuries, Altona looked worthy of their top position on the ladder.

Full forward Andrew Donnelly with 7.9, and half forward Robin Morgan with 1.6 were the worst offenders as the usually accurate Viking forwards missed many easy goals.

Acting captain, Glen Morgan, showed his twin brother how it should be done and ended the day with 5.2 and a best on the ground performance.

Danny Brennan, ruck roving, and Wayne Jones in the centre were always prominent in a game that was little more than a practice run for the Vikings. The selectors made many changes late in the game to allow the underworked backmen to have a run on the ball.

150 POINT WIN TO OFF-TARGET CITY

By Alan Burkitt

They won by 150 points, but the Vikings were kicking themselves after Sunday's game — they had missed the chance of recording their highest score for the year.

The Altona City boys played Tottenham RAAF, and kicked 21.30 to Totty's six points.

The Vikings won as they liked against the floundering airmen. The RAAF players were going in hard, but had very little skill. They appeared to be more interested in abusing the field umpire than in playing football.

Even without captain Maltisale and star backman, Geoff Bebed, both out with injuries, Altona looked worthy of their top position on the ladder.

Full forward Andrew Donnelly with 7.9, and half forward Robin Morgan with 1.6 were the worst offenders as the usually accurate Viking forwards missed many easy goals.

Acting captain, Glen Morgan, showed his twin brother how it should be done and ended the day with 5.2 and a best on the ground performance. Danny Brennan, ruck roving, and Wayne Jones in the centre were always prominent in a game that was little more than a practice run for the Vikings. The selectors made many changes late in the game to allow the underworked backmen to have a run on the ball.

SCORES: Altona City: 6.7, 10.14, 17.24, 21.30 (156) d. RAAF Tottenham, 0.3, 0.5, 0.5, 0.6 (6).

BEST: G. Morgan, D. Brennan, W. Jones, R. Morgan, A. Walgers, A. Donnelly.

GOALS: Donnelly 7, G. Morgan 5, D. Hobbs 3, Jones, I. Scott 2, R. Morgan, Brennan.

RESERVES

The Viking reserves lived up to their ancient namesakes, as they went across the water to a battlefield.

The game at Albert Park against South Melbourne Bloods was easily won by the talented intruders from Altona.

With the game lost, soon after it started, South Melbourne decided to make the Vikings earn their points and were the instigators of most of the spiteful incidents which marred the game.

Altona had many good players in an even side. Don Hyet was switched from the back pocket and starred with five goals. Captain Morrie Tisdale, showed a welcome return to form, and Frank Grego was solid in defence.

The good form of the Grainger brothers, Peter and Steven, was overshadowed by the 'king hit', which broke Peter's jaw and ended his play for the season.

SCORES: Altona City 24.14 (158) d. Bloods 4.3 (27). BEST: D. Hyet, F. Grego, M. Tisdale, S. & P. Grainger, M. Howard, A. Jones, A. Wilson. GOALS: J. Male 6, Hyet 5, P. Grainger 3, A. Pateras, D. Hudson, W. Gardner 2, A. Wilson, S. Shields, T. Hogan, S. Grainger.

Under 17: Altona had some triers against Laverton, but were outplayed by a fitter and more dedicated team.

Scores: Altona City 5.5 (35); Laverton 17.17 (119). Best: P. Heyen, B. Greenough, J. Brien, J. Rafferty, Peter Stevens, M. Donnelly.

Goals: M. Donnelly 2, K. Mochan, Phil Stevens, G. Archer.

Under 13: The Altona boys had a good win under poor conditions at Sunshine.

Scores: Altona City 4.5 (29); Sunshine 01 (1). Best: P. Dubowik, P. Hyde, C. Brown, M. Caruana, A. Owen.

Goals: B. Schmidt 2, C. Brown, I. Johns.

Man/Land Wallchart Survey

What was Victoria like before White settlement? What changes have occurred — and why? What lessons can the past teach us for the future about the proper use of finite resources? How much have we lost in plant, animal, soil, water and climate quality?

To help understand and answer these questions that are fundamental to our future survival, "The Age" is to publish a double-page wallchart. It is a special survey based on the extensive material gathered by "The Victorian Yearbook".

Called "Man and the Land" this lift-out wallchart will be published in "The Age" on Monday.
